Matthew 6:22-33 –

6:22, 23 – The mind (Greek "nous") is the spiritual eye of the soul; it illuminates the inner man and governs the will. Keeping the mind wholesome and pure is fundamental to the Christian life.

6:24 – As slaves serving two masters, people attempt to maintain an attachment to both earthly and heavenly things. But this is impossible, since both demand full allegiance. Jesus calls mammon (“riches”) a master not because wealth is evil by nature, but because of the control it has over people.

6:25-27 – Jesus is warning against anxiety, not against thoughtful planning. Our physical well-being is directly dependent on God, and only indirectly on food, drink, and clothing. Anxiety over earthly things demonstrates a lack of faith in God’s care.

6:32 – Because the Gentiles served pagan idols, they remained consumed by dependence on earthly things. Those who follow God can be freed from this dependence.

6:33 – The kingdom of God is the central theme of Jesus’ teaching, and His righteousness is the subject of the Sermon on the Mount. Calling us to be free from anxiety about earthly things, Jesus directs us to look to heaven, secure in the faith that God will provide needed earthly blessings.

THE BEST BASIS FOR OUR PRIORITIES
(The Morning Offering by Abbot Tryphon)

The Apostle Paul taught us in 1 Timothy 3:15 that the Church is the “pillar and ground of the truth,” and it is to this Church that the Apostles entrusted the Faith “once for all delivered to the saints” (Jude 3) as its guardian and protector. Thus, the Church services, liturgies, prayers, and sacraments are all essential if we are to be authentic as people of faith.

St. Athanasius the Great said, “In accordance with the apostolic faith delivered to us by tradition from the Fathers, I have delivered the tradition, without inventing anything extraneous to it. What I have learned, that I inscribed, conformably with the Holy Scriptures.

It is through this Tradition that we bind ourselves to Christ, serving only Him. All else must be secondary. When the Lord says, “You cannot serve God and mammon,” He is referring to things of a material nature (Matt. 6:24); mammon is the Aramaic word for “god of wealth”. He asks us all to declare whom we serve: God or mammon? And the way to determine whom or what you love the most is to see where your loyalties lie. When you face a choice between God and anything else, what is your choice? Do you choose to attend church on Sunday, or do you choose to sleep in? Do you prioritize your life around your relationship with God, or do sporting events, vacations, family outings, entertainment, or friends take center stage? Do prayer, reading the Bible, serving others, financially supporting the Church and its mission, and giving alms serve as your central theme, or do you choose personal gain and pleasure as central in your life?

GOD IS A FATHER!

What a tremendous challenge Christ made to all fathers when He said that God is a “Father.” One thing this means is that youngsters will get their first idea of what God is like from what their own fathers are like! What a great responsibility this alone places on every father! Another thing it means is that fathers must treat their children the way Almighty God treats all His people. Of course, the one great way God treats us is in pure love.

It is interesting to compare the relationship of God to Mankind and father to his children. God is the creator; it is from Him that all life comes. So, in the family, a man becomes a father when he passes on life to a child. God is the great provider; it is from Him that mankind receives the necessities of life. So, in the family, the father is foremost the provider of food and clothing and shelter for the children. God is the law-giver, it is from Him that we have received the great rules for living. So, in the family, the father represents authority and law as he acts in God's behalf. God is the great lover of man; it is He who sent His Son to suffer and die for us. So, in the family, the father is to so love his children that he often expends his very life in behalf of them.

Our Lord once said, "He that has seen Me, has seen the Father." What Jesus is, that's what the Father is, too. Like Father like Son. If this is so, then surely every father in our church today will strive to be the finest Christian parent he can possibly be, for his children shall be like him. Amen.
